

Kimberly Rainford – Artist Statement

About The Artist:

Kimberly was educated at Manchester Metropolitan University, gaining a BA (hons) in Contemporary Craft/Design in 1998.

Her sculptural approach to photography is influenced by her knowledge and manipulation of metals and ceramics. She always used photography as a starting point to inspire her 3D work; now it is her passion.

Kimberly's eye was trained further in the following 6 years whilst working for an international interior design company as part of their visual merchandising team, where she gained skills in composition, colour, interior design and space management. Her knowledge and expertise was utilised by the company both nationally and internationally.

In 2004 she started her own business supplying galleries with her unique fine art photography and has had great success as a corporate artist/space consultant supplying custom-made artwork for many hotels, restaurants and private houses.
